BRITISH FORCE TEU-TONS BACK ON WEST
LINES.

RUSSIANS ADVANCE

CAPTURING 4,500 PRIS-ONERS IN FIERCE
DRIVE.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—Attacks made by the British troops last night enabled them to capture all of Leuze wood, half a mile northwest of Cambes, the war office announced today. The Germans had strongly fortified this little forest but the British drove them out in a fierce charge thus advancing closer to Cambes which is still held by the Teutons.

The war office statement reports that fighting is still in progress between the captured wood and Cambes and Glunchy.

PARIS, Sept. 6.—German counter attacks were made south of the Somme river last night in an effort to check the advance of the French in that region, but all were repulsed, the war office announced today.

North of the Somme there was a violent artillery combat. South of the line of Doncourt and Berny-En-Santerre the German launched several powerful assaults, following a bombardment of the positions captured by the French yesterday, but they failed to recapture any of their lost ground.

BUCHAREST, Sept. 6.—The repulse of German and Bulgarian troops on the frontier of Dobruja province is reported in an official statement issued by the war office today.

The Bulgarians are bombarding Rumanian towns across the Danube. The official reports follow:

"We have occupied heights west of Borzeck, capturing four officers and 150 men. We are in possession of the whole of the Dobruja frontier. An attack south of Basariak (Dobrich) was repulsed. Fighting continues along the remainder of the frontier. The enemy has bombarded Calafat and Isirla. Three hydroaeroplanes bombarded Constantza, wounding a number of civilians, including children."

Calafat is opposite the Bulgarian town of Vidin and is the terminal point of a railway leading to Bucharest. Isirla is 78 miles southwest of Bucharest.

RUSS TAKE 4500 PRISONERS
Drive Austro-German Forces Back In Halicz Region.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 6.—The capture of 4500 more prisoners by the Russians in Galicia, including 2000 Germans was announced today by the war office.

The Austro-German forces in the region of Halicz have been driven back.

According to the announcement the British troops sent into Russia to fight in Armenia are now at grips with the Turks west of Lake Van.

The text of the official communication follows:

"In the direction of Halicz, Galicia and the region of the lower Corodenska we captured a fortified position and drove the enemy to the northwest. We captured 500 men, including 2,000 Germans. In the wooded Carpathians we captured more heights, repulsing counter attacks."

"Caucasus front—We advanced near Ognot. British armored cars drove the Turks from villages west of Lake Van.

Balkan front—German and Bulgarian troops are attacking the Rumanians in the region of Turtukai (Tuturan)."

BERLIN, Sept. 6.—Frank discussion of German's peace terms and various policies of the government which have excited some opposition will be permitted at the November session of the reichstag, according to semi-official information secured today. There will be a brief session late this month, but this will be given up to adopting measures made necessary by the continuation of war.

ZURICH, Sept. 6.—Within one week the Rumanians have occupied more than 7,000 square miles of Hungarian territory, according to communications made officially to Vienna.

One of the severest blows to Austria-Hungary has been the cutting of river communications on the Danube

FATALITY HURT ON R. R.

ZANESVILLE, O., Sept. 6.—Engineer George Winland of Woodsfield and fireman Frank Huey of Zanesville, both of whom were hurt in yesterday's wreck near Woodsfield on the Ohio river and Western railroad died today.

Winland died at his home in Woodsfield and Huey died in a hospital at Martin's Ferry.

ATTACKS HIS FORMER
EMPLOYERS IN HOME

CHARDON, O., Sept. 6.—Sheriff's deputies are searching the woods in Bainbridge township, Geauga county, today for Clifford Baldwin, 30, farm hand, who last night attacked M. L. Hiner and wife, his former employers, with a revolver.

The miners were in their barn when Baldwin suddenly appeared and began shooting. They fled to the house, dodging bullets. Baldwin continued to bombard the house for two hours, the miners hiding under the beds and escaping injury.

When Baldwin's ammunition was exhausted they crawled to their telephone and notified Sheriff Ballard here. He summoned his deputies and went after Baldwin, who fled into the woods and has not yet been found.

The miners say Baldwin left their employ a month ago and since that time had been living at a camp in the woods nearby. They say they fear he became mentally unbalanced and that the shooting is the result of temporary derangement.

SANITARY SOLDIERS FACE COURT-MARTIAL

Escapade of Ohio Militiamen May Result in Sentences.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 6.—Prospects of some of the 31 members of the first ambulance company, Toledo, serving terms in federal prison for their wild escapade yesterday loomed large today when Lieutenant Colonel Joseph A. Hall, commanding the sanitary troops, ordered the trial before summary court officer L. S. Connelly halted, pending decision as to which men should be tried before a general officer's court.

Absent without leave; conducting himself in a disorderly manner to the prejudice of good order and military discipline.

This was the charge preferred today against each of the 31 soldiers who took French leave from Camp Willis yesterday, marched across fields two miles to Orientang park, rooting up crops, stealing fruit, begging handouts from backdoors, and winding up their escapade by breaking into two buildings at the amusement park and stealing three cases of soft drinks.

Captain Connelly said the men tried before him would not receive more than a $3 fine and six days at hard labor, and that they would be permitted to go to the border with their comrades Saturday. The men tried before the general court, Connelly said, would be liable to six months in the federal prison at Moundsville, W. Va.

M'CLAIN, BULL MOOSE LEADER, IN WILSON CAMP

Lima Attorney Refuses to Surrender to G. O. P. or to T. R.

NO USE FOR HUGHES

Pomerene, Cox, Welty and Entire Ticket to Get His Active Support.

By David W. Bowman.

Elmer McClain, member of the state executive committee of the bull moose party, president of the Progressive club of Allen county and one of the leaders of the third party movement in Northwestern Ohio, is the newest convert to the democratic cause.

Following the example of John L. Sullivan of St. Marys, Dr. J. C. Pence and other leaders of the Bull Moose who have refused to surrender to Hughes at the behest of Roosevelt, the Lima attorney has declared himself openly as a democrat for the entire ticket, with a statement endorsing President Wilson, Senator Pomerene, Governor Cox and Ben Welty for congressman.

Elmer McClain.

McClain's flying leap to the democratic bandwagon is significant, not only because of his activity in local progressive circles, but because of his position among the bull moose leaders of the state. That he should refuse to be delivered by Roosevelt to the Hughes-Penrose element is not at all surprising, as the members of the progressive party who have revolted against a return to the old guard, against which the progressive party was aimed, are numerous.

The state executive committee declares that the progressive party is no longer effective as a factor in state or national affairs, adding that the support of President Wilson, who has secured the passage of many progressive measures, will best serve the ends of those who were genuinely progressive in 1912.

McClain was a republican until 1912, but never a straight-ticket

Rumania Enters War With Well Trained and Equipped Army

RUMANIAN GUN AND CREW.

Rumania, the latest entrant in the titanic struggle in Europe enters the war against the Central powers with the best equipped and trained army of any of the Balkan states. With a population of about 7,000,000 she has an army of more than 600,000 well trained men, ready to take the field. The high state of preparation which the Rumanians had reached is shown by the fact that they were engaged in battle in less than 24 hours after the declaration of war on Austria.

Pastor Dunham Listed For Superintendent By Methodist Cabinet

There is a well-defined rumor in the West, Ohio conference, which opened its second day's session in Grace Methodist church this morning, that the Rev. Warren J. Dunham, pastor of Grace church and conference host, will be made district superintendent the coming year.

This will be a distinct honor should it fall upon the shoulders of Lima's deserving pastor. Dr. Dunham has seen the completion of the handsome new building, where the conference is held, and his success at Grace church has been marked. In the instance of this change, Grace church will be assigned a new pastor the coming year.

Dr. Dunham has served for four years as pastor of Grace church. He will take the place in the list of district superintendents made vacant by the return of Dr. M. M. Figley of Lima, to the ranks of pastors, as he has served in this capacity for five years.

In reading his report of Lima district and the work of the past year, Dr. Figley closed his excellent report with these words: "May I say, as did Tiny Tim, 'God bless us every one.'"

Rev. James Edge on Trial.
The case of the Rev. James Edge, pastor of the Second street Methodist church of Lima up to last fall when he was assigned to Westville charge, will be investigated by the conference on the charge of insubordination. The Rev. Mr. Edge refused to take the charge at Westville, to which he was assigned by the conference last year.

The Rev. W. H. Huber, United Brethren pastor, filled the vacancy and has been most successful. The Rev. Mr. Huber is at conference this

REVENUE BILL IS PASSED 42 TO 16; CONGRESS CLOSING

Taxes on Larger Incomes is Increased by the Measure.

President Can Retaliate
Against Nations in Trade War.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—With the administration revenue bill in the final stages of enactment into law, congress today rapidly worked its way toward final adjournment. A conference committee of seven senators and seven representatives strove steadily to reconcile the difference between the two houses on the revenue measure, and the leaders planned to bring the long session to a close just as soon as the bill in its final form can be agreed upon.

The conference committee went to work without waiting for the house formally to disagree to the numerous senate amendments and informal conferences smoothed out many of the disputes involved in the senate changes. The conferees were confident that they would reach a complete agreement in ample time to allow adjournment since die tomorrow and some leaders even hoped for an agreement that would bring the session to an end late tonight, committee from the senate, it would raise an estimated revenue of $208,000,000 in addition to the present government income. The increase would be secured by doubling the basic income tax rate and raising the surtaxes on large incomes all along the line; by taxing inheritances and the net profits of munitions manufacturers; by a license tax on the stock of corporations; by increased excise taxes on beer, wines and liquors and by miscellaneous stamp taxes.

In addition to the taxing provisions, the bill would create a federal tariff commission, provide a protective tariff on dyestuffs and provide an anti-dumping law to protect American manufacturers against foreign competition. The senate wrote into the tax bill a series of retaliatory amendments, authorizing the president to use commercial weapons against any nations discriminating against American commerce. Opposition to legislation legalizing combinations of merchants and manufacturers for foreign trade, however, forced administration leaders to abandon plans for adding this provision to the bill.

The vote was 42 to 16. Eliminating the usual formalities, in order to insure adjournment of Congress by Thursday by the latest, the senate rushed the measure, the last on the administration legislative program, immediately to conference.

Five republican senators—Cummins, Kenyon, La Follette, Norris and Clapp—voted for the bill. There were no democratic nays.

PREPARING FOR STREET CAR STRIKE

NEW YORK TRACTION
HEADS HOPE FOR PEACE.

MEN MEET TONIGHT

UNION LEADER SAYS
WALKOUT TO COME
TOMORROW.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Traction officials today expressed their belief that there would be no strike on the elevated and subway lines of New York. They declared that the hesitation of the carmen's union leaders, after Interborough officials had flatly turned down their demands and refused to make any concessions whatever, indicated weakness.

The fact that William B. Fitzgerald, organizer of the union, had called another strike mass meeting of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees for tonight, after a similar meeting last Friday had voted to strike, was pointed out as evidence that the union men were not sure of their ground.

No official development in the subway or elevated situation is probable until tonight's meeting. Mayor Mitchell will not be back at his office until tomorrow and at the public service commission it was stated that Fitzgerald's threatened complaint to that body had not been lodged, though Chairman Oscar Straus returned to New York yesterday.

Statements issued by Fitzgerald declared the men were prepared to fight to a finish for their demand that the Interborough surrender the "master and servant" contracts, but the union leaders' apparent willingness to entrust their cause to Mayor Mitchell and the public service commission gave the traction people hope.

In the meantime, Interborough officials were not idle in their strike-breaking preparations. Strikebreakers were on duty at all principal subway and elevated stations, ready to operate trains in the event the union men should strike.

The no-strike prediction of the railway officials was answered by Organizer Fitzgerald, who declared that the men would go out between 1 and 2 o'clock tomorrow morning unless there was immediate intervention by Mayor Mitchell and the public service commission.

There will be two meetings of the elevated and subway employees at 8 and 12 o'clock tonight when a strike vote will be taken.

"I am sure the men will vote unanimously for a strike and that they will want to go out at once," said Fitzgerald. "I am trying to keep faith with Mayor Mitchell, whom I assured during the traction troubles last August, that I would give him a chance to act in the event of future trouble."

Some of the union officials said that, if the subway and elevated employees struck, an effort would be made to tie up all the surface lines in New York to make the paralysis of traffic absolute. Several meetings of employees of the New York Railways company were held throughout the day at which a sympathetic vote was taken for the elevated and subway men.

Organizer Fitzgerald had an appointment to meet Frank Hedley, an official of the New York Railways company, at 2 o'clock this afternoon for a discussion of the situation insofar as it affects the surface lines.

A meeting of the directors of the Interborough was held secretly in the Belmont hotel.

Two subway guards called upon Fitzgerald just before noon and told him they had been discharged for wearing their union buttons.

"That shows that the Interborough is carrying out a systematic lock-out," said the organizer. "The company wants a strike."

Fitzgerald explained that he had no authority to call a strike personally, but that the time for the walk-out would be fixed by the executive committee if the men voted for a strike tonight.

CHILD EATS MERCURY TABLETS.

AKRON, Sept. 6.—Mistaking bichloride of mercury tablets for candy, Max, three, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Moffet, ate several of the pellets before discovered by his mother. He was rushed to the children's hospital. He will probably recover.

AMERICAN SEAMEN GET 50 PERCENT INCREASE IN WAGE BY NEW LAW

No one can doubt that the immediate future of the world will be crowded with quick changes. Every true lover of America must wish the United States to play a part in those changes which will be worthy of her ideals and her character. Almost alone among the great opportunities.

In the first place, her resources are unimpaired. Not only has the war and all its attendant circumstances made no hurtful drain upon her men or her materials; it has even enhanced her skill and added to her resources, because of the very circumstances of her situation, cut off from her usual trade with many parts of the world and called upon to supply what she never supplied before, to the nations engaged in the great struggle not only, but also to her own people. She has developed industries that she had before neglected, has found new uses for her material and new material to use. She has thus been enabled to realize what she can do more fully than ever before, and to do it better than she ever did before. No other nation will stand quite so ready as she to serve the world in every work of peace and development.

In the second place, she will probably of necessity be the chief reliance of the rest of the world in the field of finance. Probably the chief part in supplying the means necessary for the great reconstruction which will have to follow the war will fall to her. When the war began America was striking the large balances, a debtor nation. When the war closes, she will be a creditor of all the world. Her financiers will have it within their choice to play a part they have never played before in the economic development of other nations and of distant regions of the earth. It is to be hoped that they will have the vision to accept the opportunity with far-sighted courage and a quick adaptation to the new conditions.

In the third place, I think it is evident that the United States will understand herself better than she ever did before. The war and all its attendant circumstances have cried her wide awake to both the dangers of her life and its enormous possibilities and advantages. There have been many things to disturb us during these two years of long drawn-out tragedy. We had not realized, before that there were certain elements in our citizenship which had not in their heart of hearts devoted themselves in full loyalty and allegiance to the country of their adoption. A new problem of disunion, more subtle, more difficult to meet with direct checkmate and correction than the old problem which culminated in the civil war, has engaged and disturbed our thought, and we have realized that we must devote a new energy and ardor to binding together the forces which will produce a new union, a union of spirits triumphant over every alien force and sympathy. But this very discovery, this very anxiety, has quickened the pulse of every loyal and devoted American throughout the length and breadth of the land, whether his birthplace was on this side of the water or on the other. A new and wholesome force has arisen among us of thoughtful, watchful, energetic patriotism, and I venture to think that the nation is better prepared on that account to face the problems of a new day in which it will marshal all its energies and assemble all its resources to play the part it should seek to play in the councils and actions of the great world.

Fortunately, America can play her part in the days to come unselfishly and impartially, because she covets nothing that other nations have unless it be their skill and knowledge in some of the undertakings of science and industry, and these things she can obtain, not by conquest of force, but by the mere careful use of the extraordinary capacity of her people. She can produce like skill and knowledge for herself. That is one of the things these days of struggle and interrupted trade have taught her. She has nothing that she wishes to take away from the other nations of the world, and she is better prepared than she ever was before to make rich contribution to the development of other nations.

The opportunity is at hand, therefore, for which she has waited. Her principles are suited to the freedom of mankind and the peace of the world. She can now exemplify those principles in action with a new leadership, a new scale. She can now afford an example of energy in justice as well as in enterprise, in fair and honorable competition, in thoughtful adaptation of her resources to the needs of the world, which may help to inaugurate a new era in the intercourse and friendly interdependence of the peoples of the world.

That she will rise to this great opportunity no man who knows her can doubt. It should be the pride and thoughtful purpose of every American so to equip himself with knowledge and so to purge his own heart that he may play a suitable part in this rebirth of Americanism.

M'CLAIN, BULL MOOSE LEADER, IN WILSON CAMP

partisan. He voted for Mayor Thomas Loftin Johnson in Cleveland, also for Newton D. Baker, now secretary of war, and for Governor John M. Pattison. When the old guard steam roller, with Root as chauffeur, ironed out the Roosevelt delegates at Chicago in 1912, McClain was one of the thousands who followed the Oyster Bay leader in the general direction of Armageddon.

He headed the progressive club of the county, winning a place on the state committee selected to run the bull moose campaign. Before leaving Western Reserve Law school he was elected president of the progressive republican club of the university.

McClain stumped the county in that year in behalf of the initiative and referendum and other pet measures of the progressives, and went the length and breadth of the Fourth congressional district in behalf of the congressional nominee in 1912 and 1914. He promoted the state progressive Lincoln Day banquet two years ago, when the leaders of the party assembled in Lima to lay plans for the fall campaign, and published the "Buckeye Progressive" during that year.

The top of a state committee to the Wilson standard may be calculated to attract enough statewide attention among the observers of political affairs to place McClain in the limelight. With District Attorney Francis J. Heney of San Francisco, Judge Albert D. Norton of St. Louis, Juvenile Judge Ben F. Lindsey of Denver, John M. Parker of Louisiana, Bainbridge Colby of New York, Chairman Hopkins of New Jersey, and other leaders of the defunct bull moose party in the nation organizing to boost Wilson by means of the old progressive organization, it is significant that the trend of the Armageddon element in northwest Ohio is toward Wilson instead of back to Hughes with T. R.

McClain's declaration, made this afternoon, leaves little to the imagination, as he is direct rather than vague in his expressions. Among other remarks he said:

This is the time for progressives to consider carefully their political affiliations. The progressive party as a political organization has virtually disappeared.

We who had been republicans left the republican party in 1912 because we valued human rights above property rights—because we put the man above the dollar. The republican party has got into the firm control of those who put property above humanity. Its sponsors believe in prosperity through special privilege.

These sponsors advocate special favors to a favored few upon the theory that a portion of the special prosperity will trickle down to bless those not so favored. The progressives stood for prosperity and justice to every man.

In their platform they expressed their conviction that "This country belongs to the people who inhabit it. Its resources, its business, its institutions and its laws should be utilized, maintained or altered in whatever manner will best promote the general interest. It is time to set the public welfare in the first place."

Abraham Lincoln said: "It is the eternal struggle between these two principles—right and wrong—throughout the world. They are the two principles that have stood face to face from the beginning of time and will ever continue to struggle. The one is the common right of humanity and the other the divine right of kings. It is the same principle in whatever shape it develops itself. It is the same spirit that says 'you toil and work and earn bread and I'll eat it.' No matter in what shape it comes, whether from the mouth of a king who seeks to bestride the people of his own nation and live by the fruit of their labor, or from the one race of man as an apology for enslaving another race, it's the same tyrannical principle." The progressives stood with Lincoln and have not altered their conviction.

I could not be honest and go back into the republican party. It is now, as in 1912, in complete control of those whose political platform is, "You toil and work and earn bread and I'll eat it." I believe all should work and all should eat. The democratic party under the leadership of Woodrow Wilson has during the present administration, demonstrated by its works that it believes in mankind.

President Wilson has been a servant of the people and a leader of his party. I believe in that kind of leadership. The servant and leader who secured for the nation the Federal Reserve Act, the Child Labor Act, the Rural Credits Bill, taking only a few examples at random, should, for the nation's own welfare, be kept in power to complete the great tasks which are before us.

It would be futile to return Woodrow Wilson without an adequate support in both houses of Congress. I am, therefore particularly glad that in the present campaign I can enthusiastically support the democratic congressional candidate, Ben Welby, for I know both him and his record. He is a fearless fighter and a man of ability. The Fourth district should have such a representative. As prosecuting attorney of Allen county he proved as

Arabs Murder Daring German Fugitives

BERLIN, Sept. 6.—The semi-official "Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung" publishes a thrilling account of the daring, but unsuccessful, attempt of Captain von Moeller and five German reservists to reach Germany from Java.

Captain von Moeller at the beginning of the war commanded the gunboat "Tatungau," attached to the German Asiatic squadron. He was attacked on the high sea by British torpedo destroyers, but escaped and reached Canton, where his vessel was interned.

In May, 1915, the captain, in the disguise of a Chinese, managed to escape to Java on a Chinese freight vessel.

When his identity became known to the Dutch authorities of Java he was interned again and sent to Soerabaya, a small seaport town. He enjoyed considerable liberty and the aid of Dutch merchants enabled him to buy and fit out a decrepit schooner. Five German reservists named Gruendler, von Arnim, Deike, Schwartz and Mann, who had been surprised by the war in Java, volunteered to man the ship in an effort to reach the Fatherland.

On December 22, 1915, the small sailing vessel, which had been named the "Weddigen," crept out of the harbor of Soerabaya under great difficulties. They eluded the British, French and Japanese cruisers and set a course toward Arabia, but when 26 days out their tiny craft was struck by a terrible typhoon and badly damaged. More than two weeks they drifted helplessly in the Indian Ocean, until they succeeded in repairing the steering apparatus.

In his official duty as Sheriff Eley last week proved himself to be.

As between the present Senator Pomerene and the republican aspirant, Myron T. Herrick, I think it would be unwise for the state of Ohio to indorse a $50,000 primary expense account, to say nothing further.

In the state campaign no true progressive can, in my opinion, give his support to Frank B. Willis if he is informed upon the record of the present administration and the preceding one of James M. Cox. Under Governor Cox the legislation necessitated by the 1912 constitutional amendments was, in the main, honestly and efficiently put through.

Governor Willis, instead of endeavoring to strengthen any weak places that time might have discovered, has systematically and persistently labored to undo preceding legislation. He has undermined the civil service. He has weakened the workman's compensation law. His most heralded accomplishment has been the faithful consumption of chicken gizzards, and my judgment is, that it will be better for the state of Ohio for the coming two years to allow its present governor to attend to the chicken gizzards in the capacity of a private citizen.

Lem G. Neely of St. Mary's isn't going to help elect Woodrow Wilson after all. No, we do not infer that he is going to vote for Hughes, for that's not being done in the front families this season. But he isn't going to do the little thing formally as he can't sit in on the session of the electoral college in December, when the president is really, positively and legally elected in the senate chamber before both houses of congress and the supreme court.

Neely has resigned as presidential elector, along with Joe Johnson of Middlefield, Geauga county, democratic candidate for presidential elector from the Twenty-second district. Their reason is that they are not eligible to the position. They are national bankers.

According to a provision of the national banking law, no person connected with a bank of that nature can hold a federal position. The electors hold federal positions, therefore Neely must sell his bankstock or forego the job of being photographed with the other twenty-three en route to Washington. He was chosen at the Fourth district meeting of the delegates to the state convention last June, on nomination of former Congressman J. Henry Goetz. His resignation was filed with Secretary of State Charles F. Hildner yesterday, and the adjourned session of the convention will fill the vacancy tomorrow.

SIXTH REGIMENT IS OFF FOR THE BORDER

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 6.—The sixth regiment of infantry, led by Colonel L. W. Howard of Toledo, marched through a drizzling rain to the Toledo and Ohio Central crossing on West Fifth avenue today and entrained for El Paso, the first section pulling out shortly after noon.

Major George W. Cunningham of Fostoria, led the first battalion and was to be followed two hours later by the second battalion, under Major Edward Welsh of Clyde.

With the sixth went the headquarters of the first brigade, including Brigadier General W. V. McKen of Toledo, and his staff of aides. The sixth includes companies at Sandusky, Fostoria, Bryan, Napoleon, Defiance, Clyde, Fremont, Oak Harbor and four Toledo companies.

Early in March of this year, 85 days after their departure from Java, the fugitives reached the Arabian shore at Lahab, south of Aden. They were enthusiastically received by the Turkish troops stationed there and took a rest of two weeks.

On March 18 they resumed their journey on land with 12 mules furnished by the Turks. After a march of 17 days they arrived at Sana, the capital of the province of Yemen, where they bought a sail boat and took to the water again.

To escape the British patrol ships which they encountered, they landed south of Kofunda, on the Red Sea. Here they obtained camels and their little caravan reached Kofunda on April 28. When they arrived at Djeda, one of the ports of Mecca, on May 16, the commander of a Turkish army corps advised them not to continue their journey.

The Turkish general warned the daring band that they might fall into the hands of Arabian rebels, but Captain von Moeller and his companions would not listen to him. They left Djeda, well provisioned for a long journey overland, with six camels, on May 29. Nothing more was heard of them until July 28, when the Turkish war department received the following despatch from the commander of the Syrian Army Corps:

"To my greatest regret I have to report that Captain von Moeller and his companions have been murdered by the Arabs 26 miles from Djeda."

The detailed report of the sensational fight and its tragic ending has just arrived from Constantinople.

The bishop condemned the use of doleful hymns in the sanctuary, urged the use of the old-fashioned songs and placed a ban on such hymns as "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." Bishop Thirkield said it was not somewhere—that it was a place known and he therefore put the ban on this hymn. He made a plea for great spirituality in the home songs, dispensing with the frivolous.

Mayor B. H. Simpson welcomed ministers and visitors. He told of his affiliation with Trinity church and said that he, for one, wanted the return of present Lima pastors, who had done so much for this city. Bishop Thirkield, in his response, said that the welcome to Lima was so hearty as to be greatly appreciated and that all felt welcome.

The Rev. Warren J. Dunham, pastor of Grace church, in extending an invitation from the Lima Chamber of Commerce, to visit the Lima State hospital for the criminal insane, said that one-tenth of the people in Lima were Methodists. The 325 ministers attending in automobiles provided by the Lima Chamber of Commerce, will visit the hospital on Friday at 1:30 p. m. They will also be taken for a sight-seeing trip around the city.

Dr. Starr, veteran minister, who has worked much in the south and Georgia, presented to the conference a gavel made from wood taken from a tree under which John Wesley taught Methodism to the dark-skinned race.

The gavel was received by Bishop Thirkield and will be retained by the secretary each year and handed down to coming conferences. Bishop Thirkield said that although he had presided at many conferences last year and this, he had never had occasion to use a gavel.

Nine Districts in Conference. Nine districts make up the West Ohio Methodist conference. They are as follows, together with district superintendents of each: Cincinnati district, C. R. Schenk, superintendent; Dayton, W. H. Wehrly; Defiance, D. H. Bailey; Delaware, B. F. Reading; Findlay, C. M. Van Pelt; Lima, M. M. Figley; Springfield, Walter D. Cole; Hillsboro, M. E. Ketcham. The report of the Toledo district was not read this morning when district superintendents made their reports.

The conference closed the morning session with an address on "Pastoral Evangelism" by the Rev. G. W. Buton. He urged the adoption of modern methods in preaching services and bid the ministers wake up to their duty. His was a strong address.

Tuesday Afternoon's Session. More than 500 ministers, laymen and visitors partook of the ordinance of Holy Communion at the session, Monday afternoon. Bishop Thirkield was assisted by Bishop Hartzell and other prominent men in the conference in administering the bread and wine.

The session was opened by the hymn, "And Are We Yet Alive?" Bishop Thirkield read from the discipline on "Department at Conference." This was followed by the hymn of consecration, "Breathe On Me Breath of God." The confession and collection preceded the communion.

A memorial service for the dead who have gone to their reward in the last year was held following

This consisted of both ministers and wives of ministers, the list being as follows:

Ministers who answered the call: Joseph T. Ball, William K. Brown, Francis M. Clemans, George W. Fulton, Isaiah R. Henderson, Herbert Jennings, Adna B. Leonard, Joseph D. Simmons, Wesley G. Waters and Loring C. Webster.

Wives and widows who died were: Mrs. William K. Brown, Mrs. Homer G. Curless, Mrs. George W. Dubois, Mrs. Lewis H. Gressley of Delphos, Mrs. Nellie Owerod, Mrs. J. W. Peters, Mrs. S. J. Roberts, Mrs. J. N. Smith and Mrs. M. J. Swearingen.

The annual memorial address was by the Rev. O. L. Carl, who spoke of the trail blazed by the early pioneers and likened the lives of those who had gone on before to those of early pioneers, saying that they who live today had inherited this rich gift of their lives. He based his address on the fourth chapter of St. John and the 27th verse.

Bishop Thirkield, in his foreword to the conference, bid them to look upon the conference as a mount of vision, to receive all that was done as being in the sight of the Master and to accept the action of the conference in this respect. He invoked the aid of Almighty God upon himself in directing the deliberations of the conference. He told how 33 years ago he left the duties of pastor to work among the more lowly.

The conference organized by the election of Valorous F. Brown as secretary. Daniel Carter of Toledo, who for many years was secretary, was named as assistant secretary. Asa J. Kestle, George A. Whitlock and C. L. Conger were elected registrar assistants.

A. E. Huntington was named as statistician. His assistants are W. W. Holland, W. N. Hirst, M. C. Wisely, B. G. Sessions, F. J. Rheinboldt, E. J. Bois, H. T. Zirger, J. O. Hillary and M. Yeagle. Calvin W. Horn was named as conference treasurer.

Frank G. Mitchell and a committee presented the following tribute to Bishop Thirkield, which was unanimously adopted:

"We welcome most heartily the presidency of Bishop Wilbur P. Thirkield at this session of the West Ohio conference. A native of Ohio, educated within our conference territory, admitted to the ministry and served his apprenticeship among us, his career has had a special interest for us.

"We have rejoiced in the high ideals that he has realized and illustrated, the strong impression that he has made on growing minds under his care and have seen with sincere pleasure the early recognition by the church of his fitness for its highest place and its greatest responsibility.

"We appreciate the brotherly spirit always shown by this honorary member of our conference, and trust and pray for an eminently spiritual session under his direction."

Conference Echoes. Miss Gail Howey, daughter of the Rev. M. C. Howey of Epworth Methodist church, and Miss Lila Tipple occupied the difficult position yesterday of caring for the register. Upon them devolved getting ministers and delegates happily situated. They never faltered, but acted well their part. Miss Howey was at this desk again today.

The Rev. D. F. Helms, who has just concluded four years of work at Broadway M. E. church in Toledo, is attending the conference. The Rev. Mr. Helms remains five years wherever he is sent, so appreciated are his services. He was five years at Columbus Grove some time ago, five years at Paulding, five years at Fayette and there is every reason to believe he will be sent back to Broadway church to complete his term of service there another year. He has been blessed with wonderful success in all his pastorates.

Noted conference visitors and their hosts are:

Bishop Thirkield with Rev. M. B. Fuller, 122 S. West; Bishop Welch with B. A. Gramm, 408 S. Cole; Bishop Hartzell with H. A. Mack, 120 N. McDonald; F. Watson Hannan with B. A. Gramm; J. W. Dowds with F. W. Talbott, 779 S. Broadway; Clarence True Wilson with Mrs. Alice Garver, 966 W. High; C. M. McConnell with Mrs. Myrtle Bliss, 1037 W. Market; G. A. Reeder, D. D. with Dr. W. E. Hoyer, 555 W. Spring; I. Garland Penn with Rev. L. R. Mitchell, 520 W. Spring; David D. Forsyth, D. D. with H. A. Mack; A. W. Harris, D. D. with G. S. Vicary; J. B. Hingley, D. D. with G. S. Vicary; Dan. B. Brummitt, D. D. with Mrs. Myrtle Bliss, W. S. Bovard, D. D. with G. S. Faurot, 430 S. Jameson.

FAMOUS FASTER IS EXPECTED TO DIE

YOUNGSTOWN, Sept. 6.—Death is expected to step in at any moment and end the fast of Dr. H. C. Huffman, oculist, who has not eaten for 69 days. That death is near was the belief expressed by physicians at the city hospital, where Huffman was taken today in a state of collapse.

His wife, who went foodless for 15 days, is with him, tearfully awaiting the end. She successfully ended her fast by eating watermelon and gradually adding to her diet and shows no ill effects.

Dr. Huffman has fasted for 40 days on several previous occasions and was able to begin eating again without any difficulty but for some reason the latest attempt resulted in Severe fighting between Bulgarian forces and Roumanians is reported from Tutraikan, where the German allies are trying to advance across the Danube into Roumanian territory along the Arjesbu valley.

Tutraikan, where the Germans claim to have captured the bridgehead in a storm attack, is only 35 miles from Bucharest, the Roumanian capital.

MME DEERY

Arrives and Takes Charge
of All Foot Ills at the Grosjean Store.

Mme. Fay Deery, doctor of chiropody, a lady of refinement and pleasing manners, is now in charge of the chiropody department at the Grosjean store on the west side of the Public Square. Mme. Deery comes to Lima with the highest of recommendations, having practiced her profession in Chicago and several of the western large cities. She is a graduate of the Illinois School of Chiropody, receiving her diploma with highest of honors.

Mme. Deery was born and raised in the west, having made McGregory, Iowa, her home in the past, but she is much taken with Lima and speaks of the city as a lively and sociable place to live.

Mme. Deery will have exclusive charge of the department she so skillfully represents and will be glad to meet every one having any foot ills.—Adv.

THE IDLER

Lima Aerie Fraternal Order of Eagles will hold a banquet next month to celebrate the winning of a $300 prize offered by the grand lodge for the lodge securing the largest number of new members in six months. David Rosenheim was notified yesterday that the Lima lodge had won.

C. M. Patterson, who for some years served as local undertaker and who maintained an ambulance for general use, has increased the activity of his firm by adding the services of his uncle, R. S. Patterson. The firm will now be known as C. M. and R. S. Patterson. They will cater especially to work among the colored people, although their ambulance is at the service of every one.

Calls will be answered promptly night or day by telephoning High 2077.

Fireman Jesse Bannister of the Central department, has applied for a pension. It was referred to a committee of two for investigation at the monthly meeting of the firemen's pension board last night. Bannister has been laid up with rheumatism and chronic tonsillitis.

A meeting of the sinking fund trustees was held in the city auditors' office yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. They awarded their depositary for the next three years to the German-American bank on their bid of 3.75 on average daily balance.

The formal opening of the Business Woman's club will be held at their home on West Spring street tomorrow evening, and the general public is invited to attend. A feature of the evening's entertainment will be the garden cabaret, where ice cream, cake and ices will be sold. The house committee, of which Mrs. Wm. B. Van Note is chairman, assisted by a special committee, of which Mrs. Miner Keltner is chairman, will have charge of the evening.

The search for Abram Smile, the escaped inmate of the Lima State hospital has proved of no avail. Not even the slightest clue has been obtained as to his destination after breaking out of the line of prisoners Monday.

Turret Captain McDonald, in charge of the naval recruiting station in the postoffice building, yesterday received one dollar in the mail. The sender of the bill stated in a note that it was in payment for one of the signs of the navy that was destroyed. The matter will be taken up with government officials.

The annual reunion of the Nungett and Dunn families will be held at Faurot park on Thursday, September 7. A big picnic dinner will be served. Relatives will be welcomed.

MRS. SENNEMAN DIES.

Mrs. Lillian Elizabeth Senneman died at the City hospital at nine o'clock this morning, following an operation. Mrs. Senneman was the daughter of Theodore and Frederika Clausing and was born at New Knoxville, Ohio, February 3rd, 1878. Surviving are the husband, L. E. Senneman, and a small son, six brothers and two sisters. Interment will be at Woodlawn.

NEW STORE OPENS DOORS TO PUBLIC

Throngs of Shoppers Attend
Big Opening of Standard
Merchandise Company
Today.

Eager bargain seekers formed a line on the public square early this morning awaiting the opening of the doors of the Standard Merchandise Company's store at their big opening this morning.

The new store occupies the rooms formerly used for the C. C. Bauer and Clinton E. Higgy Dry Goods Stores and is a branch of a chain of stores operating all over the country. John Stark and L. Schindler are the local managers and they declare that they can offer bargains in dry goods and ladies ready-to-wear at prices far below standard through their system of relieving bankrupt concerns of their stock at figures far below cost.

Everyone over town was talking of the wonderful bargains this progressive firm offered in their opening.

WOMAN ADMITS SHE SHOT HER HUSBAND

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—After a night of questioning, Mrs. James R. Barnes admitted to the police today that she shot and killed her husband in Washington Park late last night after his refusal to withdraw a divorce suit which was to have been called in court today. Barnes was western representative of a New York manufacturing concern.

The suit resulted from Barnes finding his wife entertaining a bartender in their apartment a few months ago. At that time Mrs. Barnes explained it by saying her parrot had escaped, and the bartender kindly caught it for her, whereupon she invited him to brush his clothes and have some refreshments.

ADMITS KILLING MAN.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 6.—After two days grilling, John Nessler, admitted to the police today that he had killed the unidentified man found in the bleachers of old Federal league park, Monday. A trail of blood leading from the ball park to the Nessler home led to the arrest of Nessler and his wife. Nessler declares that he found the man in the kitchen of his home talking to his wife and that he was killed in a fight that followed. Mrs. Nessler admits the dead man's presence in the kitchen, but claims his identity was unknown to her.

FAILS TO PAY BOND

HILL, IS FINED $5.

A. G. McDonald, charged with defrauding was arraigned in Justice Morris's court this morning and pleaded guilty. He was fined $5 and sentenced to 30 days in the jail. If the fine and costs are not paid on or before Sept. 9 he will be committed to the county jail.

It is alleged that McDonald has his board bill to the amount of $87 at 827 South Main street, the proprietors of the boarding house being S. Otis Dotson and Alice Adams.

CONGRESS TODAY.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—House met at 10 o'clock; senate met at 11 o'clock.

House took up miscellaneous legislation.

Senate took up corrupt practices bill.

Joint conference committee considered differences between the two houses on the administration revenue bill.

LAFOLLETTE IS WINNER.

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 6.—With all but complete returns in, it appeared today that United States Senator Robert M. LaFollette won a half-and-half victory in the Wisconsin primaries. Senator LaFollette was renominated by the republicans, but his candidate for governor, W. H. Hatton, was overwhelmingly defeated by Governor Emanuel Phillip, a conservative republican. Governor Phillip polled as many votes as all his opponents combined, according to early figures. Senator LaFollette's plurality over Malcom Jeffries, the old line candidate, is estimated at between 10,000 and 15,000.

VEGETABLE LEATHER.

A plant grows in Japan which furnishes a sort of vegetable leather. It is a pretty shrub called the "mitsumata," and its inner bark, after going through certain processes, is converted into a substance as tough as French kid, so translucent that one can almost see through it, and as pliable and soft as cat'skin.—Exchange.

Cranes and Rails.

Two North American birds that are in great immediate need of protection are the white crane and his distant cousin, the Carolina rail or sora. The former, once a denizen of the western prairies, is almost extinct, and the sandhill crane also seems in danger. The Carolina rail is in great demand as a table delicacy.—Exchange.

ASHBURY PARK, N. J.—In one day Bernard Roger was fined by his sweetheart, fined $25 for annoying her and suffered painful injuries when he fell down seventy steps leading from police court.

EARLY HISTORY OF U.S. CENTERS ABOUT OLD ALEXANDRIA, VA.

Is the Town Where George Washington Presided as Master of Masons.

Place Still Retains Many Quaint Features of Colonial Days.

By Frederic J. Haskin.
ALEXANDRIA, Va., Sept. 6.—If you want to know how people used to live, look not into books, but into houses.

The soundness of this principle is becoming widely appreciated in America. Everywhere old houses with historic associations are being restored by societies and individuals and cities and states. Almost anyone with sufficient curiosity and imagination can get a pretty good idea
of how his ancestors lived by looking over their property, personal and real.

Alexandria, Virginia, just across the river from Washington is blessed with a number of these old habitations. In fact, the whole cast and appearance of many of the streets
are still suggestive of long ago; for the houses are often flush with the narrow sidewalks, and the architecture of many of them belongs to another time.

One of the most picturesque of these old dwellings, which has recently been restored to its appearance of colonial times, is the Carlyle house, which was built about 1752. The property shows plainly the marks of at least four stages in the city's development, for the old residence has for its foundation a fort built way back in the seventeenth century, while it is enclosed
on two sides by a building erected
for a hotel just before the Civil war,
and now converted into a modern apartment house.

The old Carlyle place has now
been purchased by a resident of Washington, who, by levying a toll
of ten cents upon the curious is able to pay the taxes on the property,
keep it in repair, and employ a custodian, in the person of a young lady who can recite everything that happened in every room, together with dates, and names of all prominent persons.

The house itself would be a credit
to modern architects and decorators,
with its large high-ceiled rooms
and hand-carved cornices and panels,
which are still in perfect condition.
It was built by Carlyle, who was a wine importer, and had under his
home a large and well-stocked cellar.
For that or for some other reason he became a friend of the famous General Braddock who came over here to fight the Indians. Braddock and George Washington planned their disastrous unsuccessful campaign
in one of the rooms. Washington's commission as a major in the colonial army was issued here, too. Later on,
the colonial governors met here to discuss the Declaration of independence. It is amazing how persistently one comes across the trail of that document in his rambles among the remains of colonial America.
Probably it was discussed in every tavern and bar about that time, like
the Mexican trouble and the Hughes campaign are now; and everyone of these places subsequently claimed to be the true and only original cradle
of our liberties.

This residence stands upon a circular foundation of solid masonry,
rising fifteen or twenty feet above
the ground. This is the old fort,
built in 1638 for defense against the Indians, and under it you may still see the dungeons in which the luck-
less savages were confined after their forefathers had caught them. These prison rooms are of solid masonry,
with vaulted roofs and no openings
except a door and a hole about a foot wide in the roof through which the prisoners got air, food and light,
which shows how the old times felt
toward Indians.

In 1785, the rights of navigation
on the Potomac were discussed and settled in this same house. These

TOLLO WATER BET- TER THAN CALOMEL

A Wineglassful of This Water Starts
the Liver and Flushes the System in Half an Hour.

Calomel, which is a form of mercury, irritates and weakens the system. Tollo Water flushes the liver in Nature's way by dissolving the thickened bile that is choking the tiny drains that carry the bile from
the liver, and washing them clean.
Get a 15-cent bottle from the drug store and drink a third of a tumbler
in a glass of plain water before breakfast. In half an hour it will wash the waste from the system, relieve the liver of its bile and start you feeling good.

But to get rid of constipation and remove the bile that has been absorbed into the system, causing headache, yellow skin, sour, gassy stomach and that tired, "run-down" feeling, you should continue to take Tollo Water every morning for several days. After that an occasional wineglassful before breakfast will keep the liver active and bowels regular. It will bring back your natural, healthy color and make you
strong and well.
Tollo Water, the home of health, has been a famous health restorer for years. It was through the desire of those who have visited the springs and regained their health that Tollo Water has been concentrated and put on sale
at drug stores.

rights were then of great importance. Alexandria was one of the leading cities and ports of the United States. It was the home of the president and a center of trade and culture. Leading theatrical productions were always given there. It was not far from the size that it is now.

Regularly George Washington used
to drive to town from Mount Vernon
to attend the meetings of the Masonic chapter in Alexandria of which he was grand master for a long time. The room in which he presided over these meetings, with nearly all of its original furniture and
paintings is still preserved intact,
and is one of the most perfect
glimpses of the past to be had in America. The splendid mahogany chairs, the faded blue carpet, the raised dais of the presiding officer,
with its sky-blue canopy, and its
gavel shaped like a potato masher, are all still there. True, they are faded and tawdry and the walls are adorned by glass cases which contain buttons and knives and rags
and all the other relics of the great
man who insist upon preserving;
but you can see at a glance that in
its day this was a chamber of splendor and dignity, where great men
solemnly gathered.

The prize of the place is a pastel
picture of George Washington, which has the unique distinction of being a real resemblance. With a devotion to realistic detail rare in the portraits of great men it shows the mole on his chin and the scar on his left cheek, and the pock marks and furrows all over his face. He is revealed, in fact, as a homely, worried-looking old gentleman with a face of great strength and kindness.

Another excellent portrait is of Lafayette, who appears as an amiable young man, bald on top of the head. A picture of Nellie Custis
which is staid and faded nevertheless, conveys still an impression of rich and compelling beauty.

This Masonic chapter to which Washington belonged is still active
and prosperous, and has published several works about itself, including a book in which are set down the biographies of all the deceased members of the chapter, so far as they are known. This book is beautifully bound in green and gold and was intended to sell for a dollar but may be had for fifty cents now because the demand is not pressing. As a matter of fact, it is a mine of interesting
material about the lives of people that lived long ago; it is the real stuff of history. Here you have the stories of Alexandrians from colonial to near modern times, and from the humble Michael Flannery, of whom nothing is known except that he was a bank teller and one of the promoters of a "Birth Night Ball" at Gadsby's Tavern, to the splendorous Ferdinando Fairfax, one of Alexandria's most gilded scions, the son of Bryan, the eighth Lord Fairfax, and godson of George Washington. In addition to a pedigree of imposing length, this young man inherited before he was twenty-one,
an estate in Virginia and England
that was equal to a principality, together with the behest to be "liberal
to all around him".

No, Ferdinando did not proceed
to spend his colossal fortune in riotous living. On the contrary, at the age of twenty-two he married Eliza Blair Cary, a famous beauty, and
by her had no less than sixteen children. His only relaxation from the cares of being a family man on a large scale seems to have been the naming of these off-spring. Thus he had an Archibald and an Octavius,
and a Floretta, and incidentally a Sally and a George. Nearly all of these who survived had distinguished careers. As for Ferdinando, in addition to being a model domestic man, according to his biographer, he was also a student of literature and the fine arts. The only one of his works which is cited in proof of the fact is his will, "made in the flush
of his fortunes, and written in the style of stately elegance and literary beauty most unusual in such documents". At that Ferdinando had more to write about than most of us.

Another interesting biography is that of Col. William Payne who was born about 1725, and whose sole
claim to fame is that he whipped
George Washington in an election fight. It seems that Fairfax and Payne were opponents for the house
of burgesses, and Washington was elector, and the polls for Fairfax.
He got into an argument
with something pretty strong. Payne hailed and hit George a blow
that laid him flat.

According to the ethics of the day,
a duel was inevitable. Washington sent for Payne who came ready to face the encounter. But George, instead of the dueling pistols, had set forth a decanter of good red liquor,
two glasses, and told Payne that he (Washington) had been in the wrong the day before, and was willing to call the matter settled, and take a drink on it, if Payne was satisfied.

So there was no duel after all.
The cherry tree fable may now retire for a long and deserved rest.

BRITISH AIRMEN DO BRAVE WORK UPON EGYPTIAN FRONTIER

By W. T. Massey.
GENERAL HEADQUARTERS IN EGYPT, Sept. 6.—The brilliant
work of a flight of the Royal Flying corps during the operations in Darfur will rank as one of the finest efforts of British army airmen in the war.

The airmen had to move south at
very short notice, travel by sea, rail,
and desert track for 2,000 miles before they could reach the barren
spot from which they were to operate, face the difficulties of flying under tropical conditions with an equipment not designed to meet such special circumstances, and to fly in a country absolutely unknown to them
and where maps were of little use.

In Darfur the weather breaks
about May 25 with unfailing regularity, so that when it was decided on March 29 that a flight of the Royal Flying corps should be detached from the Egyptian expeditionary force to take part in the operations there was very little time for preparation.

On March 31 two officers left Suez for Port Sudan and Khartoum,
and they were followed on April 7 by an advance party of a few officers and men with petrol, oil,
bombs, transport tent sheds, and absolutely essential stores, and on the 20th the main body commenced the ten days' journey to the railroad station south of Khartoum.

The transport difficulties proved greater than anticipated. Stores
and machines had to be got forward
to Gebel-el-Hilla and Abiad Wells, 300 miles west of the railway, and the track to Nahud, half way, was quite unreliable, and lorries were often stuck fast in the sand for days.
The lorries had to take their own
supplies of petrol and water, thus reducing the loads.

Intense heat caused aviation petrol to burst and evaporation was so great that a consignment of seven cases supposed to hold fifty-
six gallons contained only thirty-
seven gallons.

Plants with very sharp, hard
thorns grew on the track, and punctured tires and with the thermometer registering 129 degrees in the shade it was desperately hard work
to get up stores to be ready for the commencement of aerial flights from Hilla by May 12. Most of the transport was done with camels—for at least 150 miles it was impossible to carry stores except in camel packs,
and as the tents for machines each
required twenty-eight camels to carry them the labor involved in transport may be imagined.

An officer traveling in advance
had selected spots for landing
places, and had put down directional arrows of long stripes of white cloth. These began to disappear and the new robes of sheikhs' wives was evidence of the uses to which the pilfered material had been put.

It was extremely difficult to find one's way in this country. In the mornings, when the camel transport trains were on the move, the airmen
could pick up the exact line, but the camels were rested from nine a. m.
till four o'clock, and flying was dangerous after midday because of heavy storms. You get no warning
of the approach of a "haboob".

Much the longest flight in Africa
stands to the credit of this flight of the Royal Flying corps. On May 17
Colonel Kelly's force was approaching Bir Meleit, an oasis thirty-seven miles north of El Fashier, which was believed to be occupied by the enemy. It was important to know whether there was water in the wells there. At 8:45 a. m. he again set out, and was successful. In flying over the place he was fired at,
and a bullet hit the propeller.
Bombs were rapped, and the air-
man came down low and opened machine gun fire on the enemy, five hundred of whom bolted and left Meleit open to our troops.

On his return journey the airman
dropped a message to Colonel Kelly, telling him that there was water in the wells and that the enemy had fled. The airman reached Hilla at 2:15 p. m., having been flying for eight hours out of a period of nine hours.

On some succeeding days there were further reconnaissances. Care
was taken to measure the aeroplanes
to see that they were standing the strain of unusual weather conditions
and the result was satisfactory.

On May 23, as Colonel Kelly was approaching El Fashier Lieutenant J. C. Slessor flew over the long stretch of country between the aéro-drome and All Dinar's capital, and arrived at the moment when the force had gained a victory over the Sultan's troops. Lieutenant Slessor saw 2,000 enemy cavalry drawn up in reserve outside the town, and attack them with bombs and machine-gun fire. The horsemen scattered in all directions and took no further
part in the fighting.

When he began bombing, the cavalry the lieutenant saw a group surrounding a banner. He aimed a bomb at the party, and later information points to the Sultan having a narrow escape, two of his servants
and his own camel being killed by the bomb.

While attacking the cavalry Lieutenant Slessor received a bullet wound in the thigh, and he had to steer with his hands instead of his feet on his way back to Hilla, his difficulties being greatly increased
by a storm which broke suddenly.

STATE CAMP IS NOW A 'WHITE ELEPHANT'

COLUMBUS, Sept. 6.—Owners of the land on which Camp Willis was erected claim to have been assured
that the war department will abandon the camp when all troops leave
this week. Adjutant General Hough said federal officials have not informed the state as to what is to be done. Buildings at the camp are worth $200,000. They will be useless after the soldiers go. "The state has no authority to abandon,
or retain, the camp," said Hough.
"All buildings were erected with federal funds. It will be up to the government to tear them down and sell
the lumber if they are not to be left standing."

OHIO DEMOCRATS TO MEET AT COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS, Sept. 6.—Speeches
by United States Senators Robert L.
Owen of Oklahoma, and Atlee Pomer-ene of Canton, are expected to attract a large attendance to the ad-
joined sessions of the democratic state convention, which will be held here tomorrow. The delegates tomorrow will adopt a platform which has been drafted by the resolutions committee appointed at the original session here last June.

It is expected that the platform
will recommend financial relief to Ohio municipalities and to advise a transfer from the state to the various political subdivisions all monies
received as liquor license fees and automobile taxes. Without question, the platform will contain ringing endorsement of President Wilson and the present national administration. Hearty endorsement of the Cox administration, it is said,
will be contrasted with denunciation
of the alleged weaknesses and shortcomings of the Willis administration.

The convention is scheduled to be called to order by permanent Chairman Pomerene at 10 a. m. Senators Pomerene and Owen will leave Washington this afternoon for Columbus. Unsuccessful efforts were made to have President Wilson and Champ Clark, speaker of the national house of representatives, to address tomorrow's convention.

Giving up his position as assistant
United States attorney, Joseph Brei-enstein has arrived at democratic state headquarters here and taken up his new duties as secretary to William L. Finley, chairman of the state executive committee.

LIWA BOY PASSES NAVAL EXAMINATION

Officers in charge of the naval recruiting station in the post office building this morning received a communication from the Cincinnati
office informing them that Thomas E. Smith, 19, of this city, applicant for entrance in naval service, had successfully passed the final examination. Smith is the first Lima boy to apply and pass examinations for navy service since the opening of the office here a short time ago.

CALLAHANS OF LIMA, ON ORPHEUM BILL IN COMEDY PLAY

An excellent bill marks the opening of the Orpheum season during the first half of the week. The program is well balanced and provides entertainment of every respect.
The opening act presented by the Morenos is an acrobatic dancing feature. Their work is exceptionally good and is high class from start to finish.

"The Girl and the Cop" presented by Clark and LaVerne, is one of the best on the program. The amusing antics of the pair is sufficient to keep the audience in an uproar of laughter from the start to the close of the act.

Probably the best bet on the bill
is "The Made in America Soupe,"
presented by Will Stanton and Co.
Stanton is assisted in the act by three people, all of whom are high class artists. Stanton proves to be one of the best portrayers of a drunken person that ever visited the theatre.

Benington Sisters entertain
with a number of clever and pretty songs. Strassel's animal closes the bill. Although handicapped by the sickness of one of his sea lions, the work of the trained animals is exceptionally good.

Two local boys will appear during the last half of the week in comedy
play entitled, "The Packard Four."
The two lads presenting the bill are Charles and Robert Callahan.

As both of the lads have been inducted with numerous amateur productions in the city on previous occasions, there is little doubt that they will have a large following during their stay in the city.

ROBBERS DRIVEN OFF FROM MILAN BANK

SANDUSKY, O., Sept. 6.—An attempted bank robbery at Milan, a few miles south of here, was frustrated early today by a burglar alarm system. Yeggmen preparing to blow the safe in the Citizens'
bank came in contact with the alarm
apparatus, awakening the cashier of the bank at his home. He notified
the local telephone exchange which

aroused emergency police and citizens. As persons began to gather around the bank they saw an automobile dash down the street and disappear. Investigation showed that the intruders departed hastily and left some of their tools. They took none of the bank's property. They yeggs, three in number, had blown off the combination of the vault and were preparing to open the inner doors when forced to abandon their work. A charge had been put in position ready to be set off.

LORAIN—The Lorain republican
city central committee made a bid
for the opening of the republican campaign in Ohio. Lorain republicans want the first big meeting at which Charles Evans Hughes is expected to speak, as well as other prominent members of the party.

Your wants can be found in the public. The people should help

Being Broad-Minded
By Beatrice Fairfax

"O. H. COME ON, be a good sport! What's the harm in a little thing?" says Will to Tom. "Don't be narrow-minded. Come on, have a drink with the rest of us."

And Tom, awed at the bugaboo of being called "narrow-minded," proceeds to take the drink of which he disapproves.

He sacrifices his own principles of rights and wrong for the modern fetch—"be broad-minded."

"Don't be a narrow-minded little goose, Sadie," says Jane. "There's no harm in Will Bruce, even if he is a little bit fresh. Come on down to Corey tomorrow with Will and Jim and me. We'll have a good time if only you aren't narrow-minded and spoil the day."

And Sadie listens to Jane. She doesn't want to be called narrow-minded. She has a horror of being unpopular and lonely because the rest of the crowd think her a priggish goody-goody. Her principles go down before the fetch, "be broad-minded."

A very brilliant man once said to me, "There's always something suspicious about anything that has to be viewed from a 'broad-minded standpoint.'"

Anything that can stand on its own merits doesn't need to be judged broad-mindedly or narrow-mindedly—but just fairly-mindedly.

The man who makes investments he can't afford; the man who gambles with money he "borrows" from his firm; the woman who dresses better than her means justify; the girl who goes with gay companions—all of them are likely to fall back on the excuse that you have to be broad-minded about things.

Between Puritanism of the evil-minded, suspicious and condemnatory sort and the modern broad-mindedness which tolerates moral laxity and weak indulgence in desires of almost any sort, there is a whole world of divergent viewpoint. It is somewhat like a seesaw with sanity as the balance.

And sanity is just fair-mindedness—not this so-called broad-mindedness.

None of us has a right to sit in judgment on all the rest of us. It is ourselves we must judge.

Our own principles of right and wrong are our one final guide to right or wrong. To sacrifice those principles to a desire to be broad-minded or a good fellow is only to be weak and contemptible.

When the urging to be broad-minded about a thing you consider wrong is offered you, have the courage to say, "I'm not so intolerant as to criticize you for doing that. Please don't be intolerant enough to criticize me for not doing it. I happen to think it wrong and so it would be wrong for me to yield to your persuasions and ignore my own principles." Say it in a tone of finality that brooks no argument.

"Be broad-minded!" may mean to the weakening an invitation to ignore principles and follow the line of least resistance. The end of that line may be utter moral degradation.

Before you do a thing that can only be excused from a broad-minded standpoint, look it squarely between the eyes!

HEALTHHINTS
SCARLET FEVER IS EASY TO GET, HARD TO CURE

Scarlet fever is a very contagious disease. It is a disease easy to catch but not easy to cure. While the real cause of scarlet fever has not been found it is known that a certain form of pus producing germ is present in the noses, mouths, throats and blood of scarlet fever victims.

Like all contagious diseases it is one that no person should get if he can help it.

If your child shows the following signs of illness, he may have scarlet fever:

The child usually begins to feel tired, restless and out of sorts. Usually there is either a chill, vomiting or convulsions. Any or all of these symptoms may be present.

Has a High Fever.

The child has high fever. His skin is very dry and hot, the tongue is found furred. Under this white covering the tongue is red and swollen.

Frequently the child complains of sore throat. In ordinary cases these early signs are followed by the rash and fever.

Whenever these signs are noticed the child immediately should be kept away from other people who may be at home and the doctor called at once.

Isolate the Patient.

Great care should be exercised to prevent the disease from spreading to other persons. This can be done by observing the following rules which will be explained by the attending physician:

Place the child in a room by himself.

The person who has charge of the patient must make it his business to change his outer clothes when entering and leaving the sick-room.

All the saliva and discharges from the patient's mouth, nose and throat should be received into pieces of old linen or cotton gauze. These should be buried.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

This is a medicine that every family should be provided with. Colic and diarrhoea often come on suddenly and it is of the greatest importance that they be treated promptly. Consider the suffering that must be endured until a physician arrives or medicine can be obtained. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has a reputation second to none for the quick relief which it affords. Obtainable everywhere.

WASHINGTON SQUARE.

For many generations, talent seeking a way has found its home in the neighborhood of Washington Square. The Square itself, and Greenwich Village and MacDougal alley are associated with great names—before they were great—and with the high hopes and poverty and picturesque lives of the would-be creators, the artists and writers in the making.

Greenwich Village was once a peaceful farming community, at some little distance from New York City, and was noted chiefly for its beauty of its surroundings and for the fine fresh vegetables which it sent to town. There are very old men living now who can remember when the village produced turnips and spinach instead of impressionistic literature and cubist art; and when high-wheeled carts traveled the route of the Fifth Avenue bus and the surface car.

In those days New York was all down by the Battery at the lower end of Manhattan Island; there was open country between the city and Greenwich Village; while Central Park was doubtless quite a wilderness. Then began that slow march of the city up the island, which is still going on. Soon the village was a part of the city, and a number of what were then considered fine residences were built on the square. It was a pleasant suburb. But the city marched on, and it became the most important part of town and hotels and theaters crowded about it. For a brief day, Washington Square was the center of American civilization.

But its day was brief. Carried by carlines, the city moved it, toward the rocks and woods of Central Park. The lower part of the town was deserted by business and homes alike; but a new element had come to take possession. From over the sea in ships were arriving millions of aliens, and in the deserted shops and houses of the lower island they found inexpensive homes, and filled the streets with their noise and chatter, and their innumerable progeny.

Only Washington Square was partially saved from this invasion. Its pretty park and the quaint charm of some of the old houses attracted the artist folk as did also the low rents. So the old and storied homes became studios and queer little shops and restaurants were opened in the basements, and Washington Square became the official Bohemia, the Latin Quarter of New York; and that it has remained. Tom Paine starved and died there; Mark Twain and Stevenson sat and talked in the—every morning for a long time. O. Henry came there when he was a struggling contributor to the cheap magazines. As for those who live there now, they are mostly unknown, but doubtless from among them will arise great reputations to add to the luster, the glamour that clings about the name of Washington Square.

THIS EGG FARMER DOESN'T NEED THOUSANDS OF HENS

Farm and Fireside tells of an egg farmer who has worked out a unique plan. It says:

"Another egg farmer with 1,000 layers worked out a plan of applying from 100 to 200 baby chicks of his own pure-bred stock to about a dozen of his neighbors, supplying that number of chicks to each family every spring. In the contract it was agreed that no other breed of chickens should be kept on any farm where the pure-bred chickens were established, and also that no male birds should be kept on their farms. The eggs from these 1,000 or more hens in the neighborhood flocks were bought at a stipulated price and collected three times a week, and were used to help supply his special egg and poultry trade. This plan is proving more satisfactory than carrying a stock of several thousand hens on his own farm."

KING DRANK FROM PAIL AFTER HORSE HAD FILL

PARIS, Sept. 6.—The son of a leading manufacturer of Brussels, whose two brothers have been killed at the front, tells the following anecdote which dates from the first summer of the war:

"It had been a hot day and King Albert, who had not left the trenches for hours, was suffering from thirst. He asked for something to drink, but not a soldier had anything left. Back of the trenches a man saw a horse drinking and went over and started to pull the bucket away.

"Don't do that," said the king. "Let the poor animal drink; perhaps it needs it more than I do."

It was not until the horse had finished drinking that the king took up the bucket and drank the few drops that remained.

THE PEOPLE KNOW

President Wilson will make no swing around the states. His speech of acceptance was made at his summer home and may be supplemented from time to time by appropriate short addresses. These will enable the people to keep in sufficiently close touch with his views upon issues that may arise or plans that may be devised or conditions that may develop.

This plan of campaigning is in keeping with the lofty dignity of his high office. Besides, the great masses of the people of the country are already familiar with the achievements of his administration—their purposes and their already developed results.

For four years he has been the central figure of American politics. The fierce light of publicity all that while has beaten upon him and his acts. Publicity has been given to his every utterance, to his every deed. If he has made blunders, the people have had their abundant opportunity to know and to consider them. If he has been guilty of inconsistencies, he has avowed them and they as well as his avowals have been given to the world. If he has rendered loyal and unceasing service, that has been shown.

If he has taken seriously and with all his energy to the sacred task entrusted to him four years ago, the voters know it. If he has burned midnight oil in his study of the tremendous and unforeseen problems which have confronted him as they have confronted no other president, that, too, is known.

If he has at times differed with his party leaders, the public has been promptly advised. If he has kept the faith, the public knows it. If he has shown patience and tact and statesmanship, no speeches from him are needed to enlighten the country.

If he has been bold when boldness was demanded, diplomatic when greater results could be secured by diplomacy than by impetuosity, they who are to decide the coming contest, know it.

If he has kept the country out of a war, the tragedies of which no man could overestimate, they know

Butter-Nut Bread Makers Are Joyful

A word of explanation and a study in cause and effect.

The Stolzenbach Baking Company has never contented itself with mere statements of "purity, cleanliness and quality." We have STUDIED the ART OF BREAD MAKING so closely that we have long realized that more than good materials were necessary to secure a "perfect" loaf of bread.

For several years we have employed an efficient expert, operating a very happy system of instruction and welfare work with employees, and for many years our Mr. Stolzenbach has regarded his many employees as part of his big happy family. All have worked as one, each as interested in the success of the daily output and the big business as Mr. Stolzenbach himself. Our people sing at their work, and work hard because they DESIRE something more than the ordinary. Thus they regularly effect the finest bread baked in this territory.

We'd like YOU to meet our joyous workers—at the bakery, anytime—a trip thru our sunlit, well-arranged and perfectly equipped plant will doubtless prove a revelation. Come and enjoy bread-making with us for a half hour or so.

CULTURE

WHAT definitions have been applied to the word "culture"? What persons have sought the thing it is said to be? And just how many persons have the elusive thing missed, or the person missed the elusive thing?

Is there an American living who has graduated from a high school, and has started moving "with the best circles," who has not tried to grasp and hold for himself that thing we call culture?

There are many ways we travel to seek our goal. Some of us try the classics, others rush to Europe to absorb the paintings, the statues, and devoured a guide book. There are those who join a Browning society, or discuss Shakespeare every two weeks, or join music club in order that we might appreciate the masterpieces. Some subscribe for the Atlantic monthly and the Literary Digest, and read Bernard Shaw. There are, indeed, many avenues to the abode of culture.

And yet, very few of us arrive. True, there are a few that have attained a higher place on the road, but the majority are still at the edge of the grounds. We criticize the low-brow for being lowbrow, or trying to be a highbrow. In turn we criticize the highbrow for being a highbrow, and fulfilling his position by snubbing the lowbrow. It's a strange world, and the culture seekers are not the last of the throng. Do you indulge?

AMERICAN MARINE DANCES ON BRITISH UNION JACK

OKYO, Sept. 6.—For having made a United States marine drunk on the Fourth of July at the Grand Hotel, Yokohama, and then dared him to pull the Union Jack down from the wall and dance on it—which the marine did—a German named Hermann Wohlers has been ordered deported from Japan by the Japanese authorities. Other actions detrimental to the Allied Powers are alleged against Wohlers but the Fourth of July incident is the principal. He is a bachelor and has lived in Yokohama for three years. He followed no definite occupation. The incident of the Union Jack caused a sensation in the Grand Hotel at the time it occurred, which was in the middle of a Fourth of July Ball, but everyone recognized it for a drunken act and nothing was said about it. The marine was arrested and is now at Shanghai awaiting trial by court-martial.

Stop the First Cold.

A cold does not get well of itself. The process of wearing out a cold wears you out, and your cough becomes serious if neglected. Hackling coughs drain the energy and sap the vitality. For 47 years the happy combinations of soothing antiseptic balsams in Dr. King's New Discovery have healed coughs and relieved congestion. Young and old can testify to the effectiveness of Dr. King's New Discovery for coughs and colds. Buy a bottle today at your Druggist, price 50c.

FEAR RHODE ISLAND GIRL IS WHITE SLAVE VICTIM IN NEW YORK

...the girl, Nettle, eighteen years old, had been lured away from her home a week ago. He gave as the name of the man with whom she had gone that of a prominent agent of the white slavers who operates in the New England states.

According to the letter, the agent wrote Miss de Pasquale some time ago in an effort to get a hold on her, but Mr. de Pasquale intercepted the letter and turned it over to the police. The girl, when questioned, declared that she had never met the man.

For several months Miss de Pasquale has been attending a business school between 11 a. m. and 1 p. m. daily. A week ago she left home as usual with her stenography book and her lunch. That was the last seen of her. She did not reach the school. Mr. de Pasquale believes she met the man whose name he gave the district attorney and was taken to New York City.

pink candles adorned the cake, and the favors were ears of corn filled with candy. Games and a trip to the movies were the diversion for the evening. The guests were John Boone Jr., Gerald MacKenzie, Henry Wemmer Jr., Mack Colt Jr., Leroy Hawisher, Roger Hawisher, Grey Knisely, Raymond Adkins, Dick Rohm, Robert King, Emerson Simpson, Robert William and Charles East.

Misses Irene and Helen O'Connor and Miss Cecil Dillon have returned from Cedar Point where they spent several days.

Miss Weasie Vera Gullethe and Mr. Carl Mulcahy were married on last evening at the St. Rose parochial residence. Miss Vanda Gullethe, sister of the bride and Mr. T. A. Mulcahy, brother of the groom attended the young couple. Miss Gullethe is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Gullethe, and Mr. Mulcahy is the son of Mrs. Mary Mulcahy. After a short wedding trip, they will be at home to their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kennedy and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Curry, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Harley Yocum have returned from Russell Point.

Mrs. J. W. Miller and sons, Jack and Ned of Toledo, have returned to their home in Toledo, after several days spent with Mrs. R. R. Leete of Lincoln avenue.

Miss Ruth Ashton of Lakewood ave. who was operated on recently at the City hospital for appendicitis is recovering rapidly.

Miss Helen Thompson will entertain over the week-end, Miss Dorothy Barrett and Patterson Pogue of Cincinnati.

The Gleaners Bible class of the Central church of Christ, held its annual picnic at Faurot park this afternoon. There are some forty women in the class. Miss Nevada Slook is the leader.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Gregg and family have been spending a few days with relatives in Georgetown, Ky., and on their return Monday their daughter, Margaret entered the Conservatory of Music at Cincinnati, O.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Vicary of West Market street have as their guests during Conference week, Rev. A. W. Harris, D.D., and Rev. J. B. Hingley, D.D., of Chicago, Dr. and Mrs. E. E. McCammon of Toledo, Mrs. W. G. Waters and Mrs. Esten Hall of New Moorefield.

LOADING GUNS WITH AIR.

Jack Tar knows what it means to tote heavy shells around ship, but Jack Tar will not need to worry about this duty longer, according to the Popular Science Monthly. Ammunition is now loaded by pneumatic tube straight from the magazine to the firing turret. An intricate mechanism prevents the shells from entering the breeches of the guns at great speed and also prevents any mistake in firing.

RATHER EXPENSIVE MEAL.

J. J. McCauliff, while intoxicated, went into the Athens restaurant, 140 East High street, and ordered a meal. When he had finished the "feed" it was discovered by the waiter that he had no money to pay for what he devoured. Detective Billesten put the man under arrest and when arraigned in criminal court this morning he was fined $1 and costs.

Don't Neglect Your Cold. Neglected colds get worse, instead of better. A stuffed head, a tight chest must be relieved at once. Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey is Nature's remedy. Honey and glycerine heal the irritated membrane, antiseptic tar loosens the phlegm, you breathe easier and your cold is broken up. Pleasant to take, Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey is an ideal remedy for children as well as grown-ups. At your Druggist, 25c.

ELECTRIC FANS COOL MISSOURI HENS

CALIFORNIA, Mo., Sept. 6.—The birds in the poultry plant here are real high fliers. They have one convenience that no monarch could have enjoyed 50 years ago. That convenience is electric fans. Electric fans and running water have been installed in the large feeding station of the A. B. Cole and Sons plant here. Under the play of a fountain in the feeding station is the favorite haunt of the ducks and geese.

The management found the fans and water save the lives of many fowls and make them fatten faster in hot weather.

In Our Wonderful World

A British electrical manufacturer has designed an electric lamp for facilitating the inspection of the interior walls of shells in munition works. The equipment may be described as a tubular lamp protected by a wire guard, a long metal rod, a wooden handle in which is a push-button switch, and a connecting cord and plug. The equipment is held by the handle while the lamp, supported by the long brass tube, is lowered into the shell to be inspected.

As a metal, radium has been isolated only once or twice, and few people have seen it. The metal is described as having a white metallic lustre. Radium is ordinarily obtained from its ores in the form of hydrous sulphate, chloride, or bromide, and it is in the form of these salts that it is usually sold and used.

Workmen digging in the Bay of Guarabara, at Rio de Janeiro, recently brought up a quantity of pure phosphorus. The government has ordered an investigation to determine the probable size and value of the body of mineral.

Floor coverings manufactured from paper are made extensively in many United States mills.

SUES FOR RENT.

For the recovery of back rent totaling $150 and costs of suit, the A. C. W. Realty company this morning filed suit in common pleas court against Casper Volbert. The company avers that on April 1, 1915, the defendant leased for one year a tract of land known as the Zurnmehly Farm Allotment, in Shawnee township. The lease was renewed in 1916, they claim, but the rentals have not been paid since April 1. W. T. Agerter is president of the A. C. W. company and R. C. Eastman attorney.

BRIGHTENING THE HOURS.

"How's the baby?" inquired the neighbor of the new father. "Fine," said the proud parent. "Don't you find that a baby brightens up a household wonderfully?" pursued the friend. "Yes," said the parent with a sigh. "We have the gas going most of the night now."—San Francisco Chronicle.

DAILY THOUGHT.

Finish every day and be done with it. You have done what you could; some blunders and absurdities no doubt crept in; forget them as soon as you can. This day for all that is good and fair.—Emerson.

Hints for the Housewife

For the housewife who is economical, but who likes tasty things on her table, here are some receipts for the cheaper cuts of meats that will give her a chance to save and to deserve her reputation as an excellent cook.

Fricasseed Veal—Wipe 2 pounds of veal from the loin, and cut into 1/2-inch cubes. Cover with boiling water, add one small onion, 2 stalks of celery, and 6 slices of carrot. Cook slowly below the boiling point until the meat is tender, about 1 hour. Remove the meat from the broth, sprinkle with salt and pepper, dredge with flour, and saute in pork fat until a golden brown in color. Strain the broth, of which there should be 2 cups. Melt 4 tablepoons of butter, add 4 tablepoons of flour, and when mixed, add the strained liquor. Roll a few minutes, season and pour around the meat.

Round Steak a la Quin—Cover a slice of round steak, cut about 1 1/2 inches thick, with flour; then using a meat pounder or the edge of a plate, pound as much of the flour as possible into the meat. Melt 2 tablepoons of butter into a baking pan, and when hot brown the meat quickly on both sides, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and cover with 1 cup of water. Cover closely and bake in a slow oven for several hours, or until the meat is tender throughout. This is an excellent receipt for use in fireless cookers.

Suprise Roll—Mix finely enough

New Neckwear for Early Fall

The new shipments of early Fall Neckwear comprise all that is new in Collars, Collar and Cuff Sets, Gumps, Vestees, Ties, Boas, etc.

The large cape and fishu effects in Collars are particularly "chic" and give that touch of "style" to your garment that places you in the "well dressed" class.

The values in this new Neckwear are particularly attractive.—You will agree with us when you see those at 25c, 35c, 50c, 69c and 98c—and the higher priced goods are equally good values.

THE FAUROT PICTURES. "Little Lady Eileen", as portrayed by Marquerite Clark, is giving the patrons of the Faurot photoplay entertainment of a quality that can hardly be measured in words. It is a fairy play indeed, for it has succeeded in entrancing hundreds of Lima picturegoers, who have gone into raptures over the delicious star and the charming vehicle which the Famous Players have provided for her. Miss Clark is assisted by a cast that is faultless and the production is a marvel. "Little Lady Eileen" is accompanied by new Burton Holmes Travels, "In Innsbruck", and the latest edition of the Pathe News. Last times tonight.

ORPHEUM THEATER.

The opening vaudeville bill of the season closes their engagement at the Orpheum today with a matinee at 2:30 and two performances tonight at 7:30. Will Stanton and Co. in a laughing vehicle "His Last Drop" furnish plenty of fun. Clark and Vere in "The Cop and the Girl" keep the audiences in roars of laughter. The Bennington Sisters, singers, the Morenas in acrobatic dancing, and Strassel's animals finish the bill. For the last three days of the week beginning with a matinee Thursday afternoon at 2:30, two well known Lima boys who are rapidly forging to the front in the vaudeville world, known to most of the people of Lima as Charlie and Bobby Callahan, will appear on a well-balanced vaudeville program, giving their many friends an opportunity to greet them as professional entertainers. A well known feature on the bill is the Packard Four, a riot of fun, and three other good acts.

FORCE GERMAN WOMEN TO WORK IN FIELDS

BERNE, Sept. 6.—A decree promulgated in the principality of Lippe threatens all women who refuse to work in the fields as harvesters with punishment. Those who as wives of soldiers of the front are drawing separation allowance will be deprived of them. In the event of being inaccessible to any financial forfeit of this kind the women shirkers will be imprisoned. An almost identical decree has been promulgated in the Duchy of Altenburg.

FOSTORIA—Mrs. W. H. Pelton is today receiving congratulations from friends on her narrow escape from injury when she was hurled from an automobile as it plunged into a ditch. Her head struck a wire fence with such force that all her hair pins were bent or broke; but she was not hurt.

MARKETS

STEEL COMMON GOES TO PAR ON WALL ST.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—The most interesting feature of the stock market at the opening today was an advance in steel common to par. There was a wide opening in this stock sales being made at 99 1/2 and 99 3/4 at the outset, and for a while it held close to those figures. Just at the end of the first quarter hour, however, buying orders on a large scale exhausted the supply and the price quickly rose to 100.

Trading in many other stocks was attended with a good deal of excitement and bullish enthusiasm. Brokers were swamped with buying orders in many stocks and new high records were numerous. Marine preferred was traded in on an extremely large scale, first sales being 2500 shares from 122 to 122 1/2 against 119 1/2 at the close yesterday, and then quickly rose to 124. The common advanced 2 1/2 to 50 1/2.

Mexican petroleum rose 3/4 to 112 1/2.

The copper stocks shared in the upward movement, inspiration advancing 3/4 to 59 1/2 and fractional gains were recorded in many other stocks in this group.

Bethlehem Steel rose 3 points to 490. American Can was the strongest of the minor industrials, advancing 1 1/2 to 64 1/2. Colorado Fuel rose 1/2 to 50.

The railway stocks were generally inactive. Reading was the most prominent advancing 1/4 to 105 1/2, but lost the gain in the next few minutes.

Trading in the late forenoon continued on a large scale. The munitions stocks were strong, Crucible advancing four points to 82 1/2 and Baldwin 2 points to 82 1/2. Mexican Petroleum rose to 114, a gain of over 4 points for the morning. Industrial Alcohol which closed yesterday at 110 1/2, sold at 114 1/2.

Money loaning at 3 per cent.

The close was, Allis-Chalmers 24 1/2, pfd. 78 1/2; American Agricultural 77 1/2; American Beet Sugar 90 1/2; American Can Co. 63 1/2; American Car & Foundry 63 1/2; American Coal Products 147; American Cotton Oil 52 1/2; American Locomotive 78 1/2; American Smelting 10 1/2; American Steel Foundries 55; American Sugar Refinery 109 1/2; American Tel. & Tel. 132 1/2; American Woolen 46; Anaconda Copper 87 1/2; Atchafalpa 103 1/2; Baldwin Locomotive 82; Baltimore & Ohio 85 1/2; Bethlehem Steel 488; Brooklyn Rapid Transit 86 1/2; California Petroleum 21 1/2; Canadian Pacific 176; Chesapeake & Ohio 60 1/2; Chicago & Northwestern 124 1/2; Colorado Fuel & Iron 49 1/2; Chicago M. & St. Paul 93 1/2; Colorado Southern 29 1/2; Chino Copper 54; Consolidated Gas 136 1/2; Corn Products 14 1/2; Crucible Steel 82 1/2; Distillers & Securities 46 1/2; Erie 36 1/2; General Electric 170; General Motors 51 1/2; Goodrich Co. 73 1/2; Great Northern pfd 116 1/2; Great Northern Ore 39 1/2; Illinois Central 100 1/2; Inspiration Copper 58; Interboro 16; Interboro pref'd 71; International Harvester 114; Central Leather 57 1/2; Kansas City Southern 243 1/2; M. ## SCHOOLS RE-OPENED UNDER FAVORABLE HEALTH CONDITIONS

At the special meeting of the board of education last night health Officer Jones formally sanctioned the opening of the public schools of the city. He stated that although there has been three cases of infantile paralysis in the city since the outbreak of the disease in the East, none of the victims were over three years of age, and only one death resulted.

Seven new teachers were appointed last night to make up the deficiency in the teaching force in different buildings in the city. The resignations of four instructors were accepted. The reason given for resigning was due to illness in each case.

Andrew Leak, teacher of manual training in Kalamazoo, Michigan, will have charge of the special class for retarded children in Whittier school. Arrangements will be made to give the girls a course in domestic science in the same building and eight grade pupils will be eligible to the classes.

Ellen F. Boyer, of Orville, will teach English in high school. G. M. Headley, of Xenia, will teach mathematics. Grade school teachers appointed are Miss Elizabeth Walker, Miss Pearl Schaubert, Mrs. Sue Newhouse and Mrs. Alena Kahle Mowen. The resignation of M. L. Frasier, janitor of the Whittier school was accepted by the board.

Forget Your Aches.
Stiff knees, aching limbs, lame back, make life a burden. If you suffer from rheumatism, gout, lumbago, neuralgia, get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment, the universal remedy for pain. Easy to apply; it penetrates without rubbing and soothes the tender flesh. Cleaner and more effective than musky ointments or poultices. For strains or sprains, sore muscles or wrenched ligaments, resulting from strenuous exercise, Sloan's Liniment gives quick relief. Keep it on hand for emergencies. At your Druggist, 25c.

LILE FAMILY MEETS.

The first annual reunion of the Lyle family and their descendants was held at Faurst park on Labor day. It was decided to meet annually henceforth. A picnic dinner was a feature enjoyed by all.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Lyle, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Lyle and children, E. W. Lyle and son James, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lyle and children, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Parks, and these relatives from out of the city. J. W. Lyle of Bellefontaine, Homer Lyle of Dayton and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Link and children of Delphos.

NEISWANDER REUNION.

Nearly one hundred members and relatives of the Neiswander family gathered at the Bluffton college on Labor day for the second annual reunion. A basket picnic dinner and a good program were the features of the day. Manuel Monogdo, a Philippine lecturer, was a speaker on the program and told of the customs and life of the Philippine Islanders.

The reunion will be held next year at the City park here, on Labor day. All the officers were re-elected for the coming year. About 35 members of the family from Lima attended the meeting.

SENTENCE SUSPENDED.

Charles A. Fass, arrested on a charge of drunkenness and assault was arraigned in criminal court this morning and pleaded guilty to the charge. He was fined $5 and costs and thirty days in the workhouse, the latter being suspended. It is alleged that Fass went into a house at 1117 South Metcalf street, where Francis Jeffries resides, and beat him while he was in bed.

FIREMAN IS FIRED.

Fireman Alonzo Meeks was dismissed from the city's service last night when he refused to accept Safety Director Rohn's proposition of working ten days without pay. Meeks and Chester Ashton, both of the central department, last Wednesday engaged in an argument which finally came to blows. Meeks was given a hearing before Rohn last evening, and the punishment was imposed upon him.

RUN DOWN BY AUTO.

H. B. Metzger, 125 North Metcalf street, was painfully injured yesterday afternoon when an automobile operated by Arthur Gilmore struck him while he was riding a bicycle. Metzger was pinned underneath the bicycle and machine, and received injuries about the right leg and hand.

Fifteen minutes later a delivery wagon said to belong to the Home Baking company struck an unknown bicyclist at the same corner. The man escaped with minor injuries.

WORM TURNS AT LAST, EVEN IN JAPAN.

TOKYO, Sept. 6.—That most unusual phenomenon in Japan, a strike of laborers, has just occurred at the Yokohama Dock company's works. One hundred and seventy men laid down their tools and decline to take them up again until an obnoxious foreman is dismissed, two discharged workmen taken on again, a raise of 10 per cent in wages granted, a yearly increase of wages in future, and that when new workmen are employed their wages shall be fixed at least a five days' trial.

The last demand shows what a gulf there is between the west with its fixed scale of pay for work and the Orient, where each man gets what he can. The dock company is pushed with orders and it is expected that they will compromise with the men. The strike began in the dismissal of a mechanic who took a 12 days' vacation without mentioning the matter to the foreman. When he returned he was dismissed, and the Yui Kai, the only approach to a real labor union in Japan, of which the man is a member, at once began negotiations for his reinstatement.

Before these had made any progress the men struck work. Extra police have been drafted into the district to prevent violence.

PORT CLINTON.—Tramps have been flocking to this city in such large numbers that the council will put on extra police to keep them moving.
